Cdr Jane Moore, AP

Our first cruise to Oriental on Wednesday, April 18, was a beautiful day with calm seas and light wind. Four boats and one land cruiser made the trip. Fifteen Squadron members and one guest enjoyed lunch at M&M's. After lunch, our newest Vessel Safety Examiner, Tandy Hale, inspected several vessels in Oriental Harbour.

On the last weekend in April, several squadron members attended the Blessing of the Fleet at New Bern Grand Marina sponsored by New Bern Yacht Club. P/C Moore and Cdr Moore attended the Tar River/Rocky Mount Oriental Rendezvous and enjoyed the beer tasting at New Village Brewery and dockside cookout with the Squadron members.

Several members participated in New Bern Spring Sweep on Saturday, May 5. The next Clean Sweep will be the first Saturday in October.

We hope you can join us for the upcoming May 21 dinner meeting at The Chelsea with guest speaker, Donald Willis Jr., of the Custom Marine Fabrication & Sports shop. Please see the reservation form. Sherrie Starr will have the Youth Poster Contest entrants for us to pick our three winners. The winning entries will be sent to the D27 Rendezvous for competition with the other Squadron entries.

Looking ahead to the D27 Rendezvous, hosted by Cape Lookout Sail & Power Squadron, on the 8 and 9th of June in New Bern, I want to thank all the members who have helped organize the event and will participate in the activities on the weekend. We expect around seventy-five Squadron members from the other seventeen Squadrons across North Carolina and representatives from the United States Power Squadrons®, America's Boating Club®. If you haven't registered, please do so by May 24. Reservation is on the D27 Website, www.uspsd27.org.

At our recent ExCom meeting, the bridge approved adding the America's Boating Club® logo to our website and our correspondence. Thank you to our newsletter editor, Marty Warner, and webmaster, Richard Tobacco, for their efforts to incorporate the new logo. The Outlook banner was changed in January 2018 to reflect the new logo. We continue and will remain, Cape Lookout Sail & Power Squadron, District 27, a unit of United States Power Squadrons®. We are America's Boating Club®.

Vessel Safety Check program

The Vessel Safety Check team spent a morning in Oriental doing safety checks at several marinas through the cooperation of the local sailing club. Jim Dugan coordinated this annual event.

We have welcomed Kyle Hale to the team, who quickly qualified with his initial checks. Now Tandy Hale has passed the test and is conducting her initial qualifying checks. Quite a team!

We will be doing the Camps Seafarer and Sea Gull in early June coordinated by Owen Smith. We always have a great time visiting there and doing their boats.

Do you need your vessel checked? Contact any member of the team listed elsewhere and we'll come right over. Remember, being safe is the first check on any boaters list.

Booster Club

Money collected from the Booster Club helps defray the cost of our Dinner Meeting speakers.

Only a small portion (about $17) of our dues to USPS is returned to the Cape Lookout Squadron. We need help keeping our books in the Black. Please contribute to the Booster Club. Any amount is helpful, but $10 per person is a suggested amount

Cruising with Cape Lookout Sail & Power Squadron Cruise Captain Lloyd Moore

The cruising season is off to a great start, with our first cruise to Oriental on April 18.

The next cruise on the schedule will be to beautiful River Dunes Marina, and then on to Belhaven, to the recently refurbished River Forest marina. We originally thought we would cruise to Ocracoke, but since this is Memorial Day weekend, it will be very crowded there. I've already heard from several members who will be attending, and I will send the fleet list to everyone before the event.

River Dunes/Belhaven - Thurs. May 24 to ?

Starting in New Bern, or wherever your boat is, we'll cruise to River Dunes, about 30 nm. Some boaters may want to stay aboard overnight, others may want to stay in one of the cottages at River Dunes.

For cottage reservations, call:
(800) 975-9565.

To reserve a slip, call the marina at:
(252) 249-4908.

We'll spend two nights, and enjoy the marina's facilities on the day between the two nights. Some members with runabouts may want to travel to River Dunes on the second day to join us, then leave in time to return home before the sun goes down. Land yachts can meet us at River Dunes.

For the adventuresome, we'll leave from River Dunes and head to Belhaven, about 25 nm. We plan to stay at the River Forest Marina. Lots to do and see in Belhaven, so we'll plan to spend 2-3 days. Many shops, restaurants to visit, and the marina has golf carts available to travel around town. Rooms also available if you don't wish to stay aboard.

Call River Forest on (252) 943-0320 for reservations.

TO 8°57' NORTH LATITUDE P/C WILLIAM J. ASH SN,

“Captain, when we met last time I was telling you about the voyage from Fort Lauderdale to the lower latitudes near the Panama Canal. My daughters Lydia and Annalee saw to it that I followed through on my plans to take the Zuiderdam for a ride. Also, our very close friend, Renate C., a Bavarian, asked to tag along to provide a German accent which I admire so much. The four of us were happy as clams on an incoming tide as we headed away from Half Moon Cay in the Bahamas and cruised towards Cuba and Haiti. I remember making my way to the observation deck and a chart to find our position.”

“P/C, really, there is no need to give me a moment by moment review of your cruise. I understand your enthusiasm, but your explanation, if I let you, will take eleven days. How about hitting just the high spots? And it is nice to see you again. It appears you have lost weight. Such is not possible on a cruise of considerable length. Are you well?”

“I am quite well, thank you. I left the Zuiderdam four pounds lighter than when I stepped aboard. How is that for discipline? Portion control did the trick. Well, let me go back to the actual voyage. Time had flown by, night had come and gone and in the wee small hours of the morning a distant coastline appeared, indistinctly, off to starboard. Cuba! According to the compass on my cell phone the ship was on a heading of approximately 140° coming around the eastern side of Castro’s paradise. There was nothing of note other than the deeply forested country side. So that’s Cuba, I thought about the troubles in the 1960’s, the Bay of Pigs, nuclear weapons, a naval blockade, John F. Kennedy with his, ‘Fact of the matter....’, all the newsprint regarding that testy time. I’m not interested in seeing antique automobiles, so let’s keep going.

“Zuiderdam kept pushing along using the azipods, the sun tried hard to break through massive cumulonimbus castles. Land was off to port. Another island, this time with high mountain peaks topped with stratocumulus monsters. What land mass was this? Up to the navigation deck I bounced. Haiti. Haiti? I pictured Haiti to be a flat, destitute island with very little going for it. This was an island with vertical character. I never, in my wildest dreams, would have thought Haiti to be mountainous. Knowing of its poverty I imagined it to be a flat island with marginal housing along its coast.

“Horatio, Haiti has a dramatic mountainous terrain with very few level areas for agricultural purposes. With few farms the ‘experts’ figured the best crop to harvest would be timber. And harvest they did; softwoods, hardwoods and everything in between. With the harvesting of the trees the soil had nothing to keep it in place, so the heavy rainfall common to the island, which I was witnessing, caused mud slides devastating the landscape. This did nothing to bolster the economy of the island’s people. I take it to be a bloody disaster.”

“Yes, we in the U.K. are well aware of the frightful problems experienced there for many years. I take it, P/C, you found this voyage to rather educational. I’m glad you took time to understand where you were and what’s been happening in that part of the world. Cruising is much more than fattening up in the dining halls, throwing another quid into the casino and admiring all the good looking ladies. You can actually learn a considerable amount of world affairs, politics, meteorology, geography and, in your case, reviewing navigation. Correct?”

“You hit the buoy smack on, old boy. I find cruising to be all of that. I never once put a coin towards the casino. I must admit, however, my navigational skills have dwindled with lack of practice. You mentioned the ladies? What ladies? When I walked the decks they looked the other way. It’s a reality of my becoming an old man. Oh, I do remember one elderly mermaid asking me if I needed an aspirin tablet. Now.....where were we?

“Haiti took forever to disappear over the northern horizon as Zuiderdam churned southerly, hanging close to the meridian 75°W. It may have been my imagination but I may have made out the Island of Jamaica way off to starboard. There was a subtle shift to port changing the heading of the big ship. We were moving in a SSE direction headed to Aruba which is bisected by the meridian at 70°W. That’s my story and I’m sticking to it.”

“So I take it, P/C, you still had another night of semitropical seas before sighting Aruba? Frankly, the most exciting times I had at sea, other than walloping the pants off an enemy, was sailing into a friendly port. Aruba must have looked absolutely wonderful.”

“I’ll pick that up next time we chat, which should be real soon, God willing. Yup I still have a lot to tell you, but I don’t want to bore you to death. You know how I like to go on and on. Okay, let’s plan on meeting at the yacht club at noon on Wednesday. The weather should be fine.”

“I look forward to it, Commander. I can’t wait to learn about the Dutch islands, a bit of Columbia and on to the Panama Canal. Next time! I’ll bring refreshments. Come hungry.”

New Members

As you probably know, our membership has been dwindling. How can we get more members? R/C Robert Howd, JN. CN has some ideas.

If everyone recruited just ONE person each year we would double in size in about a year. Sounds so simple but, it is difficult because many of us don't like to ASK someone to join us (it is selling). The worst they can do is, say NO. ASK a friend. ASK the person whose VSC you did. ASK the person who wonders about the insignia on your shirt or cap. ASK the person who took a class or seminar. Just ASK someone!
